

6.2 Resuming meetings for savings after complete withdrawal (share out)

If members at any point decide to resume meetings after a complete withdraw of savings, they can do so. Again, this decision needs to be approved by all members either through a phone call or by informing a committee member preferably the chairperson or the secretary.

In this occasion, the group can select any of the previously mentioned models to resume meetings of the Saving Group.